Meet Native American artisan Ronnileigh Goeman (Onondaga Nation, Eel Clan), who weaves baskets using ash and sweet grass and embellished with moose hair and quill. She also collaborates and incorporates the work of Stonehorse Goeman, who sculpts the basket bases, creating "basket sculpture." Basket sculptures are inspired and based on Iroquois culture and tradition. Goeman says, "When I weave a basket, I share the living past of my people. I am able to pass on a traditional art form as well as stories of those who came before, intertwining the past, present, and future."

Pickup Trucks: Drive-In and Tailgate Party
Farmers' Museum
5775 State Hwy 80
Cooperstown, NY 13326
10:00 AM - 05:00 PM EST
Mary Kuhn, 607-547-1423
m.kuhn@nysha.org
See a wide range of trucks competing for prizes. The pickup truck is an icon of respected American values and virtues; it is honest, hard working, durable, and reliable. Images of historical trucks from our photography collections illustrate its evolution.

This weekend also celebrates our exhibition "The Pickup Truck: America's Driving Force," which follows the route of the pickup truck from its beginnings to today. A rarity on display will be a 1907 Chase Model D "Open Express" Motor Truck, manufactured in Syracuse. You can also take a look at a 1922 Ford Model TT, a 1925 Ford Model TT, and a 1937 Ford.

A 1955 Chevrolet 3100 shows that interior amenities such as heaters, radios, and adjustable seating became important to pickup truck drivers. The 1960s saw a different kind of hybrid: the Ford Ranchero and Chevrolet El Camino. These "personal pickups," derived from passenger cars, are represented in the exhibition by a 1967 Ford Ranchero. A 1977 Chevrolet C-10 with step-side box is also in the exhibition.

The versatility and dependability of the pickup truck make it a big seller: among new vehicles sold in the United States today, the top two sellers are pickup trucks. Come out and celebrate a truly American classic.

Join us for one of the region's best-loved holiday traditions, Candlelight Evening. The landscape of the museum takes on a magical appearance, decorated in greenery and illuminated by hundreds of candles.

--Ride through the museum's grounds in wagons pulled by draft horses adorned with harness bells.
--Complimentary wassail, warmed in kettles over open fires, is served throughout the afternoon and evening.
--Take part in caroling in our candle-lit historic buildings: magical!
--Visit with Saint Nicholas.
--Hear holiday music from centuries ago and also some recent favorites, performed by several groups.
--Children take part in holiday arts and crafts activities.
--Warm up with something hot from our delicious food and drink offerings at the Crossroads Cafe next to Bump Tavern.
