Kids will get that chance at the 8th Annual Public Work Fair, which will be held from 10 a.m. – 2 p.m. on Wednesday, May 22. The fair will be held in the west ballpark parking lot at Tom Ginnever Avenue and T.R. Hughes Boulevard, O'Fallon, Missouri 63366. Admission, parking and activities are free. The event commemorates National Public Works Week May 19-25. Free activities include:
• City Train rides for all ages
• A lunch of hot dogs, chips, soda or water
• Safety awareness games and activities for kids
• Educational material for adults
• A variety of big equipment on display, including snow plows, a paint striper, backhoes, a radar trailer, street sweeper and a water main break service truck
• A Drug Take-Back tent sponsored by the City' Water and Sewer Division for residents to drop off unwanted and expired prescription medications; an O'Fallon police officer will be on hand to answer questions.
