Boulder City Historic Preservation Committee

What does the Committee do?

- The Committee members promote historic preservation.
- The Committee develops voluntary design guidelines for various areas in the city's Historic District. (The Boulder City Historic District was listed on the National Register of Historic Places in 1983.)
- The Committee organizes an annual Historic Preservation Day and selects the recipient of the annual Boulder City Historic Preservation Award.

When does the Committee meet?

- The fourth Wednesday of the month (except December) at 7 p.m. at City Hall.
- Members of the public are encouraged and invited to attend!

Where can I find agendas?

- On the city website (bcnv.org) at least three business days prior to the meeting.
- Sign up for mail or e-mail notification of agendas – check website or call City Hall.

Other information:

- Copies of the design guidelines that have been adopted to date are available on the city website and from the Community Development Department at City Hall.
- A binder of information on historic resources – products and information that homeowners can reference when they renovate their homes is available in the Community Development Department at City Hall (the public is invited to submit information for the binder).
- Lots of other historic information is on the city website!

How can I get involved?

- Come to meetings and provide your input!
- Provide information for the Historic Resources binder.
- Consider volunteering to be on the Committee when there is a vacancy. (Complete a Volunteer Data Sheet through the Clerk's Office and on the city website.)
