May 5, 2020

Dear Community Partner,

It is my hope that you and your loved ones are in good health during this uncertain time. I want to share news with you that will help you stay connected to Duke Energy Florida.

Strong connections ensure reliable power and powerful communities. Today, I am pleased to announce that Nancy Dodd has been promoted to the position of Duke Energy Florida's government and community relations manager in Polk, Highlands and Lake Counties. She began her new role on May 4.

In this role, Nancy will work closely with you, and other local and civic leaders to achieve success for the broader community. Nancy will serve as the lead public representative of Duke Energy Florida in the communities across her three-county area. She will work closely with internal partners to proactively identify opportunities for partnerships to help community leaders achieve their energy, growth and sustainability goals. Nancy stands ready to support you during emergencies such as the current COVID-19 pandemic and hurricane response.

Nancy has a strong history of celebrating her community during the best of times, lifting-up those in need and always being ready to represent Duke Energy Florida. Her pride in the community and our company is evident in everything she does. She brings with her nearly 30 years of service at Duke Energy Florida. Fifteen of those years have been as part of the government and community relations team. Born and raised in Polk County, Nancy's experience, relationships and proven heart for her community will serve our customers in South Central Florida very well.

Nancy and her husband Mike live in Bartow and have two adult children.

You can reach Nancy at nancy.dodd@duke-energy.com or 863.678.4449. Her office will remain at the Lake Wales Operations Center.

Thank you for your partnership every day. It is an honor to work with you each day to enrich the lives of our communities.

Thank you,
