Business Roundtable With Congressman Rodney Davis: May 12

The Edwardsville/Glen Carbon Chamber of Commerce is hosting a private business roundtable with Congressman Rodney Davis. The event will be held at noon Friday, May 12 in the Tuscan Room at Bella Milano.

Business leaders are invited to participate in this exclusive opportunity to interact with Congressman Davis. Davis will provide an update on current federal-level legislation, and attendees will have plenty of time to share concerns, comments and questions with Congressman Davis from a business perspective.

CONGRESSMAN DAVIS' BIOGRAPHY: Rodney Davis was recently sworn into his third term in Congress serving the 13th District of Illinois, a 14-county district covering both urban and rural areas of Central and Southwestern Illinois. Prior to being elected, Rodney served as Projects Director for Congressman John Shimkus (IL-15) for 16 years helping Illinois citizens and communities cut through government red tape and secure federal funding.

For the 115th Congress, Rodney serves on the House Agriculture Committee, the House Transportation and Infrastructure Committee, and the House Administration Committee. He has also been appointed to serve as the Chairman of the House Agriculture Subcommittee on Biotechnology, Horticulture, and Research.

Rodney has established himself as an effective lawmaker who is able to work with his colleagues on both sides of the aisle to pass legislation. Serving on both the House Agriculture Committee and Transportation and Infrastructure Committee has allowed Rodney to be a leader on issues essential to commerce in Illinois.

Rodney's work on the Farm Bill helped Congress produce a five-year bill that provides certainty to our farmers, strengthens crop insurance and cuts $23 billion in spending. Additionally, Rodney led the way to ensure farmers, who understand agriculture better than anyone, have a seat at the table when the EPA creates new rules and regulations impacting the agriculture industry.

While working to reform the Water Resources and Development Act, Rodney was successful in including language that allows the U.S. Army Corp of Engineers to partner with private businesses to complete projects needed to improve our waterways. This initiative and other streamlining provisions to cut the approval process for projects from 15 years to 3 years will save millions of taxpayer dollars and significantly improve our nation's ability to move goods and products to market.

Rodney has demonstrated his ability to lead even in a divided government. The Hire More Heroes Act, his bill to help small businesses hire more of our nation's veterans by rolling back Obamacare, overwhelmingly passed the House with more than 400 supporting votes and was signed into law in July 2015. Rodney has worked with his colleagues to ensure a more efficient, effective government for generations to come.

Rodney resides in Taylorville with his wife, Shannon, and their three children, Toryn, Clark and Griffin.

We are Invested.

Anderson has been invested in the healthcare of Madison County residents since 1977.

We are an independent, not-for-profit hospital dedicated to creating a health care setting in which quality of life and service excellence are experienced by our patients, their families, the medical staff and the community.

Our 154 bed, acute care facility is technology driven ... offering patients cutting-edge diagnostic capabilities not often found in a community setting.

Our quality services are evident by our accreditations, certifications and designations which endorse our expertise.

We are a pillar in this community with roots firmly planted in the communities we serve. Our legacy in the establishment of Anderson Hospital has remained a key element in our mission and vision. Each new service and every expansion has been in direct response to community needs.

COMPANY HISTORY:

The Edwardsville location of Chava's is owned by Lisa Bohannon. The original Chava's was opened in Soulard in 2006 by Chris Ybarra, Lisa's brother, and has been extremely successful. Lisa lives in Edwardsville and given the economic growth and the restaurant scene, Edwardsville seemed like a perfect place for another location. The restaurant is named after Chris and Lisa's grandfather, Chava, who is from Guadalajara, Mexico.

ECONOMIC IMPACT: Chava's generates jobs – employing 25 people, and have paid several thousands of dollars in taxes. Chava's employees shop, play and/or live in Edwardsville. Lisa has also invested in improvements in the restaurant's space, such as adding a patio for diners to enjoy.

COMMUNITY ENHANCEMENT: Chava's has participated in numerous fundraising events, such as Taste of Edwardsville. They have also donated to food to various SIUE and brewery events, and have donated hundreds of gift certificates to local trivia events and school fundraisers.

EXCELLENCE: Food and customer safety is the top priority at Chava's. The kitchen staff is required to complete the Food Safety Certification Training. Servers are required to complete BASSETT training so they know how to serve alcohol responsibly. Chava's exceeds best practices by routine temperature checks – this is not required, but they do it to continually emphasize the need to maintain proper temperatures and keep the focus on food safety. The Chava's team is prepared for a health inspection at all times.

CHARACTER: The Chava's team goal is to provide its customers with great, fresh food and service. Their belief is that if they take care of their customers, they will succeed.

LEADERSHIP: Lisa is a member of the Mexican Honorary Commission.

INNOVATION: Chava's chips and some of their tortillas are made locally in Chris Ybarra's factory. Because these items are made by Chava's for Chava's, the quality can be controlled. Providing fresh food is a differentiator for Chava's. Second, by implementing a social media strategy they remain current and in front of the customer. Chava's offers a variety of daily specials to stay competitive and bring value to customers.

FUTURE FOCUS: Lisa and the Chava's staff are very thankful for their customers and the business that they have generated. Their next step is to become a better corporate citizen by more involvement in the community.

Construction Under Way To Transform Former Hospice Home In Edwardsville Into Memory Care Community

IMPACT Strategies is underway with a renovation project that will transform the former Relais Bonne Eau Hospice Home in Edwardsville into a new memory care community for Cedarhurst Assisted Living. The 20,600 square foot building located on Marine Road has sat vacant since closing in December 2015. The memory care community, named Ruth's House in honor of the grandmother of Cedarhurst founder and owner Joshua Jennings, is set to open early summer after a $1 million renovation.

As part of the renovation project, IMPACT Strategies will increase the resident capacity of the building to 17 units by repurposing storage areas that are no longer needed. Additionally, construction crews will remove doors, windows, and walls around the central corridor to create an inviting open area for residents and guests.

"We selected IMPACT for this project because they understand our business model and know exactly what we need to achieve with this building," said Josh Stevens, president of Cedarhurst. "We currently have more than 225,000 square feet of senior living space under construction with IMPACT in Illinois and Missouri. We consider them to be a very reliable partner in senior housing construction."

Upon completion, Ruth's House will accommodate up to 36 residents with Alzheimer's- or dementia-related illness. Inside the community, residents will enjoy a peaceful décor, an on-site chapel, a large great room perfect for gathering with friends and family as well as private bathrooms in every apartment. Ruth's House will offer resident-centered care and support by a highly trained and mission driven staff.

Sandberg Phoenix & von Gontard Managing Partner Bhavik Patel Earns Recognition

Sandberg Phoenix & von Gontard Managing Partner Bhavik Patel was recognized as a Missouri Lawyers Media Law Firm Leader honoree recently in St. Louis. The annual award is presented each January to chairmen, managing partners or law firm executives who demonstrated vision, innovation and leadership during the previous year.

"This is truly a great honor," Patel said of the award. "I've always tried to bring energy, creativity, vision and a focus on innovation to every role I've had with Sandberg Phoenix. And I believe that without the support of the entire firm, and the encouragement of our current and former leadership, I would not have received this recognition. Sandberg Phoenix is a special place, with a unique culture, and this award is proof of that."

Patel, who joined Sandberg Phoenix in 2004, served as Practice Group Leader for the Business/Transactional practice group and managed the firm's Clayton, Missouri and O'Fallon, Illinois offices. He practices in both the Business and Business Litigation Practice Groups and focuses his practice on the following areas: Wealth/Tax Planning and Administration, Special Needs Planning, Probate and Trust Litigation.

Outside of the office, Patel is a member of Washington University School of Law's adjunct faculty and teaches a class entitled, "Practical Issues in Wealth Planning & Drafting." He is also the Founder and Chairman of the Board for Families at Ease, a local not-for-profit entity focused on delivering information about programs, services and resources available for special needs children and their families.

Patel received his LL.M. in Taxation from the Washington University School of Law; his J.D. from the University of Arkansas-Little Rock School of Law; his M.B.A. from the Illinois Institute of Technology-Stuart College of Business, high honors; and his B.B.A., magna cum laude, from Georgia State University.

In this role, Cook will work with Town and Country Bank customers and clients providing innovative financial resources and expanding the client base.

Brenton has been in the banking industry in the Metro East for more than 10 years. Prior to joining the TCB team, Brenton served as a financial center manager and mortgage lender. Cook has an affinity for community banking and jokes that he literally grew up in a bank. His mother worked at a community bank in Sandoval, IL, and he spent a significant amount of time there during his childhood.

"My goal is to get out in the community and show this area what we have to offer," said Cook. "I am eager to spend time with community members and provide solutions and resources to help them reach their financial goals and aspirations."

In addition to maintaining and running the Edwardsville facility, he also plans to serve the community in other ways and encourages employees to volunteer on a regular basis.

"We are excited to have Brenton on board as we continue to grow in the Metro East area," said Micah Bartlett, president and CEO of Town and Country Bank. "He understands our unique approach to banking and is ready to help empower our customers' financial well-being."

Cook received bachelor's and master's degrees in business administration and economics from SIUE. He lives in Granite City, IL, where he enjoys spending time with his wife and son.

Illinois Chamber of Commerce April 2017 Government Affairs Report

This was published by the Illinois Chamber of Commerce in a recent 'Government Affairs Report' email.

"RIGHT TO KNOW" AFFECTS LOCAL SMALL BUSINESSES:

Springfield is at it again. Another year, another mandate on job creators. Senate Bill 1502 (Hastings), also known as the "Right to Know" bill, passed the Senate 31-21-0. If enacted, this bill would require websites and online services to post a privacy policy identifying the categories of personal information they collect and respond to consumer requests for all categories of personal information that was disclosed. This bill applies to any information that "identifies, relates to, or describes" an individual. It includes things like a person's name, address, or photograph, but also "deidentified" or anonymous information such as "alias, nickname, and user name," or IP addresses.

The proposed legislation would require small businesses across our state to create massive databases of personal information about their online customers/users that would not otherwise have to create or collect. Many businesses will also have to pay extra to keep these databases secure from hackers and identity thieves, hire or train staff to respond to consumer requests and purchase more insurance in case of a data breach.

The Chamber is unalterably opposed to this legislation as it would add increased costs to small businesses, employee training and insurance costs. If business owners do not comply in the exact way this legislation is written, they could be forced into expensive and superfluous lawsuits. Many businesses will be forced to hire lawyers to draft privacy policies for their websites that ultimately don't benefit consumers.

"TAX HAVEN" BILL FAILS TO ADVANCE IN SENATE: Today, the Chamber was instrumental in the defeat of a bill that would punish companies that engage in perfectly legal tax planning. SB 1798 (Hastings) failed to receive enough votes to pass favorably out of the Senate on a roll call of 29-20-0. As noted previously, the Chamber was the only stakeholder that remained opposed to the bill after an amendment was filed that stripped the "tax haven" provisions out of the bill. However, the bills retained prohibitions against "expatriate companies" from participating in bidding on state contracts under the Procurement Code. There are some carve outs for "expatriate companies" that have been identified as provided certain essential products or services to the State of Illinois.

The bills also retained language involving investment in expatriate companies by the various retirement systems. As amended, the bills require the State Board of Investment to identify "expatriate companies." The retirement systems are required to either divest themselves of such investments, or engage in "shareholder activism." The bills provides that shareholder activism may include such actions as "bringing shareholder resolutions and proxy voting on shareholder resolutions.

The House version, which passed recently, has since been assigned to the Senate Executive Committee. The Chamber remains opposed and stands ready to testify in opposition to a bill that is nothing more than political grandstanding.

CHAMBER TESTIFIES AGAINST 500% TAX INCREASE: Keith Staats of the Chamber's Tax Institute testified in opposition to an initiative of the Chicago Teacher's Union that would impose a 500% tax increase on partnerships and S-corps that engage in investment management services. The intent of the sponsor is to impose a tax of 20% in order to "fix" the lower federal income tax rate on "carried interest."

Staats testified in strong opposition to the bill and highlighted that it would likely be declared unconstitutional as an unconstitutional service tax, or as violating the provision of the Illinois Constitution that forbids the imposition of more than one income tax. Staats also noted that it is inappropriate to attempt to fix, perceived problems with the federal tax code through state legislation. Finally, Staats noted that even if the bill were to somehow survive the apparent constitutional infirmities, the bill would likely cause investment management services providers to leave the state of Illinois and there would be litigation over when the "service" is provided in Illinois so as to be subject to taxation.

The bill was voted out of committee on a 5-4 vote. All of three Republican members of the committee voted against the bill, as did one Democrat. The bill is now on third reading in the Senate and could be called for a vote today. We continue to express our strong opposition to this proposal.

CHAMBER BILL HOLDS LOCAL GOV'T ACCOUNTABLE: An initiative of the Chamber that is intended to hold local governments accountable was given a subject matter hearing (no official votes taken). The bill, SB 1701 (McConaughay), would establish a Home Rule Administrative Procedure Act. The bill requires the one home rule county, Cook, and all home rule municipalities to promulgate administrative interpretations and pronouncements related to local ordinances as rules through a process at the local level that would be similar to the rulemaking process at the state level.

This intent of SB 1701 is to require these units of local government to provide the opportunity for notice and comment to members of the public. This legislation is designed to end situations such as when the city of Chicago issued Ruling #11 requiring automobile leasing companies located outside the city to begin collecting the Chicago automobile leasing tax, or when the city of Chicago determined that it would "re-interpret" its authority under the Personal Property Lease Transaction Tax to begin taxation of cloud-based software. SB 1701 would require rulemaking before a home rule unit could take actions of this type.
