

MICHAEL SEVERAL

Going for the Gold

PUBLIC ART
on the Metro Gold Line
A Retrospective

11.08.09

Tours are free.

Valid fare is required to ride the train:

Participants may purchase a Metro Day Pass,
good for local travel all day: $5; $1.80 for seniors.

Reservations are required.

RSVP: gold\_line\_tours@yahoo.com

ABOUT THE TOUR: This tour brings to life California stories gleaned from artists, administrators, and the unique communities involved in the creation of the public art along the Los Angeles Metro Gold Line. Going for the Gold is a collaborative project between the USC Libraries and researcher Michael Several, with funding from the California Council for the Humanities' California Story Fund.

Meet at 10 a.m.
at the Metro
Gold Line Del Mar
Station. Tours are approx. 2 hours.
* 80% walking

