CLUB 20 Giving Greater Voice to Western Colorado

From collaborating with organizations in an effort to identify a new funding source for highway maintenance to helping Western Slope businesses gain information regarding the Affordable Care Act, CLUB 20 represents its Western Colorado members on many issues of common concern. CLUB 20's ten policy committees have been tackling big issues in 2013 while advocating for policies to help communities, businesses and individuals continue to live and work on the West Slope.

CLUB 20 is a non-partisan advocacy group with business, individual and local government members from 22 counties in Western Colorado. Members come together in an effort to help shape policies that impact West Slope communities. CLUB 20 works to encourage a position that positively promotes Western Colorado and has been known as “The Voice of the West Slope” since 1953. Ten policy committees work to develop positions on issues of common concern like, Agriculture, Business Affairs, Energy, Education & Workforce Development, Telecommunications, Transportation, Public Lands and Natural Resources, Water and Healthcare. And to advocate for solutions that support jobs, families, businesses and communities in the region.

This January, CLUB 20 will take the opportunity to hold a one hour informational meeting hosted by the Lake County Economic Development Corporation (LCEDC) for community members to discuss current CLUB 20 efforts. This will be a good opportunity for people to learn how they can lend their voice to discussions regarding issues that impact Western Colorado communities. The CLUB 20 community meeting in Lake County will be:
