SEBASTIAN INLET STATE PARK TO HOST NIGHT SOUNDS CONCERT SERIES

~Concert will feature SIRSY under the moon and stars~

SEBASTIAN INLET – The Florida Department of Environmental Protection's Sebastian Inlet State Park will hold the next show in the Night Sounds concert series on Saturday, February 17, 2018.

Hosted by the Friends of Sebastian Inlet State Park, the concert will showcase recording artist SIRSY. SIRSY is an Indie Pop Rock duo that The Boston Globe calls "Little band, big sound." SIRSY's music is chock full of soul and sincerity, with a touch of sass. They have 6 CD's of original music. Their lyrics can be a little dark or introspective but their stage presents radiates joy. The Times Union says "Clever, smart songs with more hooks than a tackle box." Melanie Krahmer's voice is capable of a lion's roar or a floaty whisper. Rich Libutti's guitar work has been called "Killer rock guitar riffs" by Instrumental Magazine. Together they have created a dynamic, full sound. Their newest CD was produced by Grammy-winning producers, Paul Kolderie and Sean Slade.

The concert will take place at the pavilions on Coconut Point, located on the south side of Sebastian Inlet. The concert is free with regular park entry fees.

For more information about the concert please call (321)984-4852 or visit www.floridastateparks.org/sebastianinlet. or www.sirsy.com.
