In the Footsteps of the Maya

by

Molly Fierer-Donaldson, PhD

Molly Fierer-Donaldson has worked on archeological projects in Honduras, Peru, Bolivia, California, Arizona and Massachusetts. Her focus on museum work and in particular collections from the Southwest led her to her current position as Curator/archeologist and educator at the Lost City Museum in Overton, NV. She will be discussing her excavations with an emphasis on the fabulous Maya site of Copan in Honduras.
