

If you look closely, you can even see the reflection across the street in the doors

