2018 Membership Drive Kick-Off Party/Training
State of the City with EGF Mayor Gander

Join the Chamber and the city of East Grand Forks for a luncheon on April 18th to hear Dr. Steven Gander, the Mayor of East Grand Forks, give his State of the City address. Find out his prospective and plans for East Grand Forks. See page 14 for more details.

April 25 • 11:30 am to 1:30 pm
Civic Center in EGF

175 Career Conversations Held with Local College Students.

Thanks to the more than 60 local businesses who signed up to host a student for a one to two hour “Career Conversation”. The 175 students who participated all had good things to say about the GF/EGF Business Community and many said they are “more likely to look for a job after graduation as a result of the conversation.” The career conversations are part of the ongoing workforce development effort where we are working to connect students to local businesses.

Chamber “Shark Tank” Set

We have all seen the popular TV Show “Shark Tank”. The Chamber will feature its own version of Shark Tank on May 2nd at 6:30 p.m. at the Empire Arts Center. New businesses (less than 2 years old) and individuals with a business idea are encouraged to “go into the tank” and share their business opportunity with the “sharks”. Presenters will compete for cash prizes. See ad on page 8 for details.

Chamber Members are encouraged to attend the event and learn from the presenter and the sharks who will offer business advice to each of the participants and select the winners.
East Grand Forks Messages Will be Delivered During MN Business Day

Business and community leaders will travel to St. Paul in April to visit with MN Elected leaders about the importance of the including the NCTC’s bond request and also about doing everything possible to keep Minnesota’s business climate competitive with North Dakota. For years it has been the Chamber’s position to work to keep the state’s business climates as close to one another as possible. This policy benefits both communities.

Gold Medal Community Celebration

Grand Forks, ND - Thursday, March 08, 2018 | 6:30-8:00 pm

The State of North Dakota, the city of Grand Forks, Chamber of Commerce and Ralph Engelstad Arena invited the community to a free event that celebrated the accomplishments of Monique and Jocelyne Lamoureux as Olympic gold medalists.

Monique and Jocelyne Lamoureux recently became the first North Dakotans to ever win a gold medal at the Olympics when they helped the U.S. Women’s National hockey team defeat Canada at the winter games in Pyeongchang, South Korea.

Mayor Mike Brown presented the Key to the city to the Lamoureux sisters.

Ron Galstad, Board Chair, Grand Forks/ East Grand Forks Chamber of Commerce, proclaimed, “March 8th as Monique and Jocelyne Lamoureux Day” in the state of North Dakota on behalf of Governor Doug Burgum.

Monique and Jocelyne Lamoureux grew up in Grand Forks playing youth hockey and eventually went on to star at the University of North Dakota where they hold several school records. The 2018 Olympics mark the third time the Lamoureux sisters have represented the United States in the winter games as part of the national hockey team, previously capturing silver at the 2010 and 2014 winter games.

RiverView Welcomes Cardiologist, Adds Availability of New Services

Crookston, MN – RiverView Health is pleased to welcome Noah Chelliah, MD, to its medical staff as the medical director of RiverView’s Cardiology and Rhythm Management Services. Dr. Chelliah is a cardiologist working to diagnose cardiovascular diseases such as congenital heart defects, coronary artery disease, heart rhythm disorders and heart failure. His Crookston practice will allow patients additional services close to home. Along with cardiology consultation, Dr. Chelliah will perform cardiac procedures including pacemaker implants, cardiac defibrillator implants and Biventricular pacemaker implants. He will work closely with RiverView Internal Medicine Specialists Bosun Fashoro, MD, and Sherine Talaat, MD, PhD. “Dr. Chelliah is an accomplished cardiologist who brings with him more than 30 years of experience,” shared Dr. Fashoro. “He undoubtedly will be a resource to our facility.”

After completing his medical degree at Christian Medical College, Vellore, South India, Dr. Chelliah completed an Internal Medicine residency in New York City and a Cardiology fellowship in New Jersey. He is board certified in Internal Medicine, Cardiology and Interventional Cardiology.

Hagstrom Named one of Top 25 Women in Business for 2018

Widseth Smith Nolting’s Laura Hagstrom was selected as one of Prairie Business Magazine’s Top 25 Women in Business for 2018. The list recognizes successful businesswomen in North Dakota, South Dakota, and western Minnesota. Honorees were selected through a nomination process that emphasized professional achievement, community contributions and volunteerism.

Hagstrom is a water resources engineer located in WSN’s Alexandria office. She joined Widseth Smith Nolting in 2013 and is responsible for hydrologic and hydraulic analysis of watersheds and river systems, storm sewer design, water quality control design, and bridge hydraulics. She serves as manager and technical advisor to the City of Alexandria’s Stormwater Management Committee and manages the Municipal Separate Storm Sewer System programs for Alexandria and other cities.

Laura’s work has been recognized by her peers, including authoring “Too Many Pollutants are Still Reaching Our Waters—MPCA Tightens the Reigns” in 2014 and receiving recognition for her Barnum Park Wetlands design by the Colorado Association of Stormwater and Floodplain Managers’ 2012 Stormwater Quality Tour.” Laura also serves as the local Kiwanis Club’s Membership Director, a graduate of Leadership Alexandria, and dedicated volunteer for her children’s activities.

Spin for Kids receives $75,000 Matching Opportunity from Engelstad Family Foundation

Grand Forks, N.D. – Altru Health Foundation has received a $75,000 grant from the Engelstad Family Foundation as a matching opportunity for Altru’s Spin for Kids event. The 9th annual Spin for Kids will take place April 14, 2018 at Red River High School in Grand Forks.

Altru’s Spin for Kids is an annual indoor stationary bike race, raising over $660,000 since it began in 2009. Teams of all different backgrounds and riding abilities participate, with each rider taking his or her turn for 20 minutes. Each year, teams get dressed up in costumes to join the fun, with several teams loyally returning year after year. All funds raised directly benefit children with a variety of special needs due to neurological, orthopedic, and genetic disorders, as well as problems with developmental delays. Proceeds are disbursed to qualifying families to help ease the struggles they face every day and help children in our communities live the fullest lives possible.

Some of the items purchased through Spin for Kids include:
- Therapy and Medical co-payment assistance
- Wheelchair, car seat and specialty positioning aides
- Various adaptive 2 and 3-wheel bikes and safety accessories
- SMILE Program
- UND language and literacy programs
- Orthotics and specialty braces
- Sensory and play therapy equipment

“The Engelstad family continues to be very generous in their support of scholarships for financially eligible families. Their matching grant gift will double the number of families served who are in need of support for their children’s therapeutic and specialty health care needs. Words can’t express my gratitude and appreciation for their kindness,” said Jon Green, Executive Director of Altru Health Foundation.
Indigo Signworks recruits experienced CEO – Rick Schomburger

Indigo Signworks, a leading design, build and install signage company that serves major retail and commercial brands, announced they have recruited Rick Schomburger as their new CEO. According to Indigo Signworks’ Executive Chairman, Denny Chandler, “It is with great pleasure to have Rick join our team. Rick is an accomplished business person and we couldn’t be more thrilled to have him take the helm to lead and accelerate our growth initiatives. His impressive skills and leadership style fit nicely with who we are today and where we are heading.”

Rick began his career by applying his engineering degree as a Project Manager at Universal Scheduling Consulting. He broadened his operating skills as a Plant Manager at Cooper Tools and then Director of Operations at Tyco International, where he led lean initiatives in a complex operational environment. Rick’s executive leadership experience began as the COO of Weiser Lock and President Global Manufacturing Solutions for Masco Corporation, and then as General Manager at Rain Bird Corporation. In 2007 he parlayed his skills into entrepreneurship when he personally acquired Solana, leading it through the recession downturn and growing it into the premier landscaping, hardscaping and signage company in Arizona. He recently sold Solana and now sees Indigo as the perfect fit.

“In his expertise in operations, design-build-install businesses, acquisitions and his demonstrated leadership skills were exactly what we sought,” added Chandler.

Rick expressed, “I am very excited to be a part of the Indigo Team. Having spent time with both the management team and the Company’s investors who are looking to expand, I became convinced that this is the place for me to best utilize my education and experience.”

Rick is originally from Pittsburgh, PA and currently lives in Tucson, AZ with his wife Cheryl. Rick will initially be residing in Fargo and he and Cheryl will eventually locate to the Minneapolis where Indigo plans to establish its headquarters. He earned his engineering degree from Duquesne University in Pittsburgh and his MBA from the University of Arizona Eller College of Business.

JLG Architects named one of the most admired companies in the US

GRAND FORKS, ND – March 6, 2018 – JLG Architects has been selected by MSN Money, through BestLife, as one of the 50 most admired companies in the United States.

According to BestLife, the designation was drawn from “interviews, local business trade magazines, major outlets like Forbes and Fortunes, and other statistics.” The MSN Money/BestLife list identified one organization from each of the 50 states. JLG was elected to represent North Dakota, where the firm was founded, and was one of two architecture firms on the list.

From MSN Money: “One of Inc’s 50 Best Places to Work, JLG is not only an innovator in architecture, winning several awards for its remarkable designs, but it also donates 1 percent of its billable hours to nonprofits.”

JLG Architects names Michelle Mongeon Allen as next CEO
Lonnie Laffen to continue as President

MINNEAPOLIS, MN – March 23, 2018 – Michelle Mongeon Allen has been appointed the new Chief Executive Officer (CEO) of JLG Architects, a 100% employee-owned architecture firm that is one of Inc. Magazine’s 50 Best Places to Work in America and Building Design + Construction’s Top 75 Architecture Giants.

The positions of President and CEO were previously combined at JLG, held by founder Lonnie Laffen. With the firm’s growth into new markets, Laffen recommended splitting the two roles. He will continue as President of JLG and will focus on the firm’s strategic initiatives.

“We are entering a new era of growth at JLG,” said Laffen, “and it is common for large companies to have a CEO separate from the President. Michelle has informally held this role for the past several years, and the time is right to make it official.”

“Gary and Lonnie built this firm on two foundational principles: relationships - or our desire to work for and with people we call friends; and design – the belief that we could raise the bar for design in the communities we serve and delight with solutions that are within our clients’ constraints but beyond their wildest expectations,” said Allen. “Thirty years, 12 offices, and 110 employee-owners later, I am proud to carry the baton for this firm because, while a lot has changed, the most important things haven’t.”

Past President of the Minnesota Chapter of the American Institute of Architects (AIA) and one of Prairie Business Magazine’s Outstanding Woman Executives, Michelle Mongeon Allen led JLG’s operations from an one-office, 15-person North Dakota architecture studio to that of a national design firm with over 100 employees in 12 markets. One of Allen’s first major points of impact was to expand JLG into Minnesota – opening the firm’s second location in Minneapolis – and to grow the company onto the Minneapolis-St. Paul Business Journal’s Top 25 Architecture Firms list. Allen became a Partner in 2004 and Chief Operating Officer in 2007 and, under her guidance, transitioned ownership to the employees in 2014 so as to make JLG a legacy company.

Known for her commitment to elevating the next generation of architects, Allen has been a leader within the Minnesota Chapter of the AIA, including positions of Co-Chair of the Council of Firms, Chair of the Annual Conference on Architecture, and the aforementioned President, as well as at North Dakota State University (NDSU), where she serves as Past Chair of the Department of Architecture and Landscape Architecture Advisory Board. Allen is a guest lecturer at NDSU and a presenter at AIA, PSMJ, and other industry conferences, and was the State Coordinator for AIA North Dakota’s Intern Development Program from 1997 to 2002.

Raised in Towner, ND, Allen garnered an appreciation for the sustainable prairie vernacular that has inspired much of her professional work. Though she dedicates significant time to JLG’s business operations and strategic initiatives, Allen is a design-driven CEO who has contributed to several AIA award-winning projects over the course of her career, including the State of Minnesota Joint Operations Facility in Thief River Falls, Minnesota, and the King’s Walk Golf Course in Grand Forks, North Dakota.

Allen earned a Bachelor of Architecture from North Dakota State University. She is a Registered Architect, a LEED-Accredited Professional, and an accomplished vocalist. She lives in Dayton, Minnesota with her husband, Brian, and their three children.

Creating a Fun & Professional Workplace
Increasing Productivity in Non-Traditional Ways

Time at work doesn’t need to be a grind or drag -- there’s plenty of room for levity and fun while maintaining a professional environment! Guests will learn tips & tricks they can use at work to not only raise spirits and improve morale, but create a culture your team members want to be part of.

Big or small, your company will come away with innovative techniques you can put to use before your next staff meeting!

Presented by:
Corey Mock, Executive Director
Greater Grand Forks Young Professionals

Wednesday, April 18, 2018
