Adversity University Seminar coming to Valdosta

A one-day seminar, scheduled Tuesday, May 17, at the Holiday Inn Conference Center, is designed to help individuals and businesses deal effectively with challenges.

"Adversity University: Turning Problems into Profits" offers techniques to use obstacles as opportunities. John Hicks and Frank Sayles Jr., are facilitating the seminar, sponsored by the Valdosta-Lowndes County Chamber of Commerce.

The seminar is from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. at the Holiday Inn Conference Center, 1805 West Hill Ave. There is a fee to attend.

Sayles brings his experience of more than 25 years in the corporate world to the seminar. He has been a management trainer for the Thomson Corp., conducting seminars across the U.S. and Canada, and has aided in presenting Dale Carnegie courses.

Hicks is a multiple small business owner and entrepreneur who brings his real-world experiences of starting and running small businesses, along with the challenges that accompany them. He has spent several years studying human potential and success techniques.

For more information, call the Chamber of Commerce at (229) 247-8100.

Bradford and Deal Mark Affiliation Anniversaries

Dorale Bradford celebrates her first year of affiliation with Prudential ACS Real Estate. Bradford joined the company in April of 2010 and has quickly become a top producer. She enjoys assisting her clients with buying or selling a home. She has also become known for her professionalism.

Andy Deal has completed his fourth year of affiliation with Prudential ACS Real Estate.

Having earned certification as a Seniors Real Estate Specialist, Deal specializes in assisting that segment of the market with their real estate needs, such as downsizing or relocating. He especially enjoys helping young first time home buyers with the details of obtaining their first home.

Both have helped active military in the area take advantage of Prudential ACS Real Estate's Active Military Rebate Program.
