Be Safer Today, in just 90 Minutes!

This is a crash course in defense combatives for the non-martial artist. In this course we will spend a few minutes of classroom time, discussing task awareness, the Rational Protective Mindset by OXYS, and physiology for your advantage.

Many of these techniques are derived from law enforcement and tactical training to capitalize on your body's God given defensive mechanisms. That means we will train you to maximize your present mindset - and build a rational protective plan for your immediate use.

This is a somatic approach with an applied moral and theological framework. You will leave the class with focused techniques to explode your body's defense resources in an emergency. Plus, you will learn our technique to FACE Fear.

No special equipment is required - but there will be modest physical activity. Please dress for indoor athletic activity, bring an open mind and be safer today.

A participation waiver will be required.
