Life Line Screening has been in operation since 1993 and we provide services throughout the contiguous United States with expansion abroad. Since inception, we have screened over 6 million people, and perform approximately 1 million screenings annually at over 20,000 events nationwide. Because we are a mobile organization, we rely of the kindness of facilities just like yours to open their doors one day a year in order for us to be able to screen the people of your community. These screenings detect vascular disease, irregular heartbeat, and osteoporosis. Many people are at risk for diseases such as stroke and heart disease but experience no symptoms. Early detection and control can prevent major consequences down the road.

All ultrasound tests are read by board certified physicians, and studies conducted by the Cleveland Clinic and the University of South Florida show Life Line Screening's test results are as accurate as those of top hospitals. For all of our screenings, we use the same state-of-the-art technologies that are standard in hospitals across the country. We are continually evaluating new equipment to ensure that our equipment is the most advanced. All screening results are reviewed by board-certified physicians who are licensed in your state. Our team of doctors includes vascular surgeons, cardiologists and radiologists.
