I'm reaching out personally to invite you to an unforgettable evening, the RMEF Mini Cassia Chapter Banquet. It's a night that brings together the best kind of people: those who love the outdoors, care about conservation and believe in our hunting heritage—for a high-energy event filled with connection, prizes and purpose. Whether you're chasing elk in the high country, mule deer on the open range, or whitetail in the hard woods—you belong with us. If you've been to one of our banquets, you know it is an incredible experience. If you haven't, I hope you'll join us this year. Why You Should Join Us: • Win premium prizes—from hunting gear to exclusive firearms and outdoor equipment • Connect with fellow conservationists who share your passion • Support conservation efforts that ensure the future of elk and all big game thrive for years to come Visit events.rmef.org/shop/minicassia1 or call (208)312-3026 to reserve your seat. While RMEF's roots are in elk country, our mission goes much further. From moose and mule deer to whitetail and wild turkey, our conservation efforts enhance landscapes that sustain all big game species and our hunting heritage. If you can't make it this year, I hope you'll consider becoming a member (if you're not already). Your support directly funds habitat restoration, public access projects and conservation efforts across the United States. At RMEF, we're not just conserving what's here today—we're creating what's possible for tomorrow. That means more access, healthier habitats, and a stronger future for all big game. Whether we see you at the banquet or welcome you as a member, your support is vital to the future of elk and big game. This banquet is one of my favorite nights of the year and I know you'll enjoy it too. Please don't hesitate to reach out with any questions—I hope to see you there.

See you there,
Nikole Neal
