Get ready for a night of laughter, friendly competition, and BIG wins at the Game Show Night at the Carnegie of Homestead!

Saturday, May 9th | 6:30pm

We are turning the Library and Music Hall into a lively stage where everyone is a participant! You can test your knowledge, quick thinking, and luck in a series of fun, game show–style challenges. From trivia rounds to interactive games, there’s something for everyone—and plenty of chances to win exciting prizes along the way! Enjoy interactive magic from world-renowned, locally loved Lee Terbosic, then watch the stage transform into an interactive live game show experience from Hollywood, California – Kevin Horton brings Next Contestant Games back to the Steel Valley — a fast-paced, all-audience participation show filled with comedy, karaoke, dancing, wild challenges, and real prizes. The audience plays along from their seats OR on stage in a high-energy 90-minute experience unlike anything else! All hosted and emceed by local fave, Aaron Kleiber! Throughout the evening, enjoy a variety of activities and offerings, including giveaways, basket raffles, a basket of cheer auction, a 50/50 raffle, a homemade bake sale, and a cash bar.

Tickets are $50 for VIP – or - $25 for General Admission

For more details or purchase tickets, go to [www.librarymusic hall.com](http://www.librarymusic hall.com)

“Game Show Night at the Carnegie” is a fundraiser benefiting the Carnegie Library of Homestead, presented by “Friends of the Carnegie” with the support of Steel Valley Accelerator, and Main Streets Allegheny, a project of the Allegheny County Department of Economic Development. Proceeds support the Library’s educational initiatives, physical needs and community programs that continue to serve the region.
