Ask A Professional Workshop - September 16, 2026

TBD

05:00 PM - 07:00 PM PST

The Ask a Professional Workshop is designed to give business owners direct access to experts in the key areas that support a successful and sustainable business. Marketing, accounting, legal, technology, and financial services all play a critical role at different stages of business growth, and this workshop brings those resources together in one place.

Marketing professionals help business owners understand how to attract customers, build their brand, and grow visibility through effective strategies and messaging.

Accounting experts provide guidance on bookkeeping, taxes, cash flow, and financial organization, helping businesses stay compliant and make informed decisions.

Legal professionals offer insight on business structure, contracts, compliance, and risk management, ensuring businesses are protected as they grow.

Technology specialists support businesses with tools, systems, and digital solutions that improve efficiency, security, and scalability.

Financial professionals assist with funding options, budgeting, credit, and long-term planning to help businesses build stability and prepare for growth.

Together, these professionals create a well-rounded, interactive workshop where attendees can ask questions, receive practical advice, and walk away with a clearer understanding of how each area works together to strengthen their business.

LinkedIn Accelerator: What Decision Makers See When They Find Your LinkedIn Tickets, Saturday, June 27 • 10 AM - 12 PM PDT | Eventbrite

LinkedIn is where CEOs, recruiters, potential clients, and investors decide if you're the one. Make sure your profile says you are.

The LinkedIn Accelerator is an intensive working session, not a seminar, not a webinar, not another event where you take notes and go home with good intentions.

You come in. You do the work. You leave transformed. End of story.

By the time you walk out of this room, or close your laptop, here is exactly what you will have in your hands:

Your completed LinkedIn profile. Written, polished, and ready.

The headline that makes decision makers stop.

The banner that communicates your brand in three seconds.

The about section that tells your story, establishes your authority, and makes someone want to reach out before they finish reading.

Your personal authority statement. The clear, powerful declaration of who you are, who you serve, and why you are the obvious choice, so you never second-guess how to introduce yourself on LinkedIn again.

Thirty days of content. Created in the room. Done, built using Dr. King's proprietary G.P.S.™ AI Prompting Formula so you can recreate this process on your own for the rest of your career.

A strategy so clear that you will never stare at a blank screen wondering what to post, when to post, or whether anyone cares. You will know. And you will show up differently because of it.

This is a $997 value, delivered in three hours, because the work gets done in the room, not saved for later.

This is where careers are built. This is where clients are made. This is where your profile becomes the answer to someone's search.

Due to the personalized nature of this experience, we intentionally keep attendance small. There are a limited number of sponsored in-person seats available in Las Vegas and a select number of virtual registrations open to ensure every participant receives the focused, high-touch experience this workshop was designed to deliver.

When the seats are gone, they are gone.

Register now. Someone is already searching. Make sure they find you.
