invites you to a free educational event, Women and Social Security: What You Need to Know.

Many women take time out from their careers to care for children or older relatives. Women are often not covered by private retirement plans and tend to earn less than men. So Social Security can play a specific and vital role in a woman’s financial strategy.

In this webinar presented by Mary Beth Franklin, you’ll discover how claiming age, marital status and earnings restrictions can affect a woman’s Social Security benefits.
