FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Bank of Hillsboro Establishing New Branch in Staunton

Hillsboro, IL (November 26, 2019) Bank of Hillsboro has announced plans to open a new branch in Staunton. The community-focused bank has its main location in Hillsboro with ten other locations throughout the area.

Bank of Hillsboro President and CEO, Misty Borrowman, said the bank plans to establish a full-service temporary bank branch at 227 East Main Street in Staunton by the first of the year. They plan to operate in the temporary building for roughly 15 months until they finalize their new, permanent facility in Staunton. The location and additional details regarding the new permanent site will be released in the coming months.

"We are very excited to come to Staunton because we feel like our culture as a bank reflects the values of that community," said Borrowman. "We are a growing bank with small-town values and our goal is not just to be in the communities we serve but to also be a part of them. As we do in our other branches, we look forward to supporting Staunton schools, town events, the Chamber of Commerce, police and fire departments, and the military servicemen and women of the area. We also wanted to make the investment in building a new banking facility in Staunton and employing local people."

Borrowman has personal ties to Staunton. She and her husband have lived a few miles east of Staunton for the last 13 years. Their children attend Mt. Olive schools and their daughter has been a part of the Staunton High School track team.
