Legends 2019 - Five Community Philanthropists to be Honored on October 30 at Space Coast Convention Center

The spirit of giving is a very beautiful and tangible part of the community vibe in Brevard County. The third annual Hospice of St. Francis Legends Generosity Awards scheduled for Wednesday, October 30 will celebrate the generosity of spirit demonstrated by honorees Lisa McAlpine, D. Travis Proctor, Mike and Rashmi Shah, and the legacy of Hospice of St. Francis' founder, Emilie Sasko (deceased), now carried on by the board, staff and volunteers of the organization.

“Strong communities possess a spirit that threads its quiet way throughout the entire population, calling people to give and get involved in making their hometown the best it can be. At Hospice of St. Francis, we understand the concept of generosity. We see it in the giving heart of a volunteer, the caring touch of a nurse, and the ways in which families rally around their loved ones at this precious time. Generosity is the hallmark of what we do and it is a value that we honor in others,” said Joseph S. Killian, President and CEO of Hospice of St. Francis.

The Legends Generosity Awards are open to the community. Individual tickets and Sponsorships at various levels are available. Tickets and/or sponsorships may be purchased online via the following Web link: LEGENDSAWARDS2019.EVENTBRITE.COM, or by calling the Foundation for Hospice of St. Francis at 321-360-3456. The event is relocating this year to the Space Coast Convention Center to allow for expanded seating.

“These wonderful individuals have touched thousands of lives with their kindness and generosity. Our new venue, the Space Coast Convention Center will afford us the space we need to house this elegant event and provide seating for the many family members, friends and business associates who want to be a part of this celebration of caring and service,” said Dorothy Allen, Chief Philanthropy Officer of Hospice of St. Francis.
